

THE CASE OF THE PREGNANT LADY

A lady about 8 months pregnant got on a bus. She noticed the man opposite her was smiling at her.

She immediately moved to another seat.

This time the smile turned into a grin, so she moved again.

The man seemed more amused.

When on the fourth move, the man burst out laughing, she complained to the driver and he had the man arrested.

The case came up in court.

The judge asked the man (about 20 years old) what he had to say for himself.

The man replied, 'Well your Honor, it was like this: When the lady got on the bus, I couldn't help but notice her condition. She sat down under a sign that said, 'The Double Mint Twins are Coming' and I grinned.'

Then she moved and sat under a sign that said, 'Logan's Liniment will reduce the swelling', and I had to smile.

Then she placed herself under a deodorant sign that said, 'William's Big Stick Did the Trick', and I could hardly contain myself.'

BUT, your Honor, when She moved the fourth time and sat under a sign that said, 'Goodyear Rubber could have prevented this Accident'...

I just lost it.'

CASE DISMISSED!!

Sun Bathing

Karen, who was rather well-proportioned, spent almost all of her vacation sunbathing on the roof of her hotel. She wore a bathing suit the first day, but on the second day, she decided that no one could see her way up there, so she slipped out of her suit in order to get an overall tan. She'd hardly begun when she heard someone running up the stairs. She was lying on her stomach, so she just pulled a towel over her rear end.

"Excuse me," said the flustered assistant manager of the hotel, out of breath from running up the stairs. "The hotel doesn't mind you sunbathing on the roof, but we would very much appreciate it if you would wear a bathing suit like you did yesterday."

"What difference does it make?" asked Karen calmly.

"No one can see me up here, and besides, I'm covered with a towel." "Not exactly," said the embarrassed assistant manager. "You're lying on the dining room skylight."
